Letter of reference

Dear Sir or Madam,

In my power of the Vice-president of EAHAD (European Association for Haemophilia and Allied Disorders) and President of EAHAD 2019 annual congress, I hereby provide, with great pleasure, the reference on Prague Congress Centre (PCC).

EAHAD 2019 annual congress held in that centre was the most successful ever during its 22 years history (see also <https://www.flickr.com/photos/139513769@N04/albums/72157678877207518>) as for the number of attracted delegates. I am deeply convinced, that location of the centre (Prague), the venue itself (PCC), very reasonable pricing policy and superb communication of our agency (MCI Geneva) with the congress centre representatives played a significant role in above mentioned success.

Once coming to Prague Congress Centre, delegates were amazed by the stunning view over the whole city of Prague, including astonishing Prague castle "Hradčany". I personally found this to be one of the major difference and advantages PCC has over other centres, which seldom have glazed walls with panoramic view over the hosting city and this has been confirmed in the feedback we received from our delegates.

As already mentioned, the communication with the PCC representatives as well as with all the staff in the congress centre was very pleasant, efficient and straightforward, whatever was the language used for such a communication (English, Czech, German or French in our case)

Our delegates appreciated also extremely large (over 2 700 seats) main lecture hall, recently refurbished, very convenient and well air-conditioned (in our case during winter months, with very cold weather outside). There were many other rooms and halls of variant sizes available, which fitted our needs well. We even did not use the whole capacity of the centre, though having around 3 thousands delegates.

Another issue I want to mention is the excellent catering and food served during the coffee and lunch-breaks throughout the event, respecting dietary restrictions and requests of delegates. We never had too less nor too much of it and the gastronomical variety was very positively noticed and commented upon by our delegates.

In general, I am strongly convinced, that the venue and its location contributed significantly (together with well designed scientific programme, indeed) to the utmost success of our 2019 annual congress we had in Prague.

Should you need more information, please do not hesitate to contact me on my personal email or phone number mentioned below.

Yours sincerely Jan Blatny, MD, PhD, Vice-president of EAHAD
